

He is an orator of ability and his entertainments are a literary treat to a cultured community. If you desire to raise money for your church, school, or club get J. Quincy Biggs to give a lecture on Shakespeare and you will be entertained and your treasury placed in a more healthy condition.

WALTER L. ROSS.

Ex-Pres. of Alva State Normal.

In giving the play of "Hamlet" each character is brought to life with such vividness, that even those who have not made a study of this wonderful "drama," see the characters, and listen to their talk, forgetting that these beings are all portrayed through the one personality.

LAURA LEIGH HANSON,

Ex-Pres. of The Hanson College of Oratory, Boston.

I have been highly entertained as well as instructed by J. Quincy Biggs as I sat and listened to his interpretation and impersonation of Shakespearean characters. His services are worthy of the confidence of any organization who may desire to spend a profitable hour in the company of the great poet of Avon.

OWEN F. JONES, B. D., D. D.

Rector of Episcopal Church.

Quite a literary treat was given the large audience in the Jackson Theatre when J. Quincy Biggs entertained in monologue with an impersonation of Shakespeare's favorite drama, "Hamlet." Few are given the talent to entertain, and fewer still to entertain in Monologue, so when we say that from the introduction to the close of the impersonation the listeners were held completely by the charm and personality of the speaker, we scarcely know whether we pay tribute more to the excellent literary taste of the audience or of the perfect entertainment rendered. One felt the cold presence of the "ghost" restless in his grave. The fear and guilt, the conscience of the king, the sadness and disappointment of Ophelia, the grandeur and gloom of the wronged Hamlet, as they ranged on the stage, PAWHUSKA CAPITAL.

The Alpha Club takes great pleasure in recommending to the public, J. Quincy Biggs, as an impersonator and student of Shakespeare. His ability as an orator is remarkable and shows years of training and hard study. The lecture on "Hamlet" given by him before the Club was highly appreciated by its members and any work that he may do in this line will be an educational and literary treat for those so fortunate as to hear him.

MRS. R. L. NELSON,

Pres. Alpha Club.

He is a master of Shakespearean literature—Prof. GEO M. EASTHAM.

The play, "The Marble Arch," was given by home talent under the direction of J. Quincy Biggs who is an enthusiastic Shakespeare student and a lover of good dramatic art. Mr. Biggs portrayed the character of the bachelor as none but a professional could have done.

OSAGE JOURNAL.

I thoroughly enjoyed his interpretation of the great Shakespearean drama, Hamlet. The parts were admirably read and the varying characters of the dramatic personae interestingly brought out. He gave us much help, and I am sure the pupils went back to their class room study with renewed zeal and interest.

A. C. STRANGE,

Supt. of Baker Public Schools.

Dramatic Artist.....

36

MONOLOGUES READINGS AND SKETCHES

ARRANGED BY THIS ARTIST FROM THE WORKS OF

SHAKESPEARE
POE
KING
COOKE
HALE
FIELD
RILEY
AND OTHERS

36

J. QUINCY BIGGS

VARIOUS PROGRAMS

TRAGEDY, COMEDY, PATHOS, HUMOR

36

SHAKESPEARE INTERPRETATIONS

A SPECIALTY

"Hamlet"

ELKS' HALL, Friday, April 24
8:30 p. m.

The auditorium was filled to overflowing with the matured student body. Professors and Enid's lovers of literature. Mr. Biggs showed a marked degree of training and his presence on the platform was graceful.

O. N. ROTH, Chancellor of P. U.

The play of "Hamlet" was given verbatim and as the story developed one could almost see the full cast of actors upon the stage and yet one man was giving it all.

The lecture on "The Poetry of the Bible" was handled in a masterful way. Mr. Biggs is a man of exceptional talent and remarkable memory.

GOLTRY NEWS.

If you can, you had better hear Mr. Biggs on "Shakespeare," it will sharpen your appetite for more.

FRANK M. LONG,

Y. M. C. A. Secy of La. State University.

I consider him one of the best that I have ever heard, and it has been my pleasure to hear several eminent readers.

DR. F. K. SLATON.

He is a scholar in literature and oratory.—ATTON AMERICAN.

Mr. Biggs is possessed of a clear strong and sympathetic voice and his appreciation is equal to his enunciation.

ENID NEWS.

The graduating address was delivered by Mr. Biggs. The church was packed to its utmost capacity and the speaker being at his best acquitted himself with glory and honor. The discourse was a masterpiece of logic, eloquence and oratory. The I. O. O. F. address was pleasing and entertaining

GOLDEN CITY REGISTER.

Mr. Biggs gave a rare treat in the form of a sermon-lecture entitled "Ingenuity" and based on Shakespeare's King Lear. He has clearly shown himself to be a great student of literature and oratory.

PROF. R. E. DOWNING, Supl. of City Schools.

He is very able and earnest.—HABBERTON NEWS, ARK.

I know him as an earnest, consecrated and diligent student, a pleasant and easy speaker. Without slip or break he presented "Hamlet" the masterly tragedy of the human will. His work showed that he was of the right temperament to appreciate and interpret our greatest English bard.

W. J. WRIGHT, Acting Pres. of O. C. U.

Biggs is a power.—PROF. H. E. WINTERS.

He is a very forceful speaker. He is a man of exceptional talent and remarkable memory. Mr. Biggs shows training and his presence on the platform is at all times graceful.

PROF. G. A. WEBB.

He is all right.—REV. T. A. ABBOTT, Secy of Mo.

He is a polished Christian gentleman and an eloquent, earnest speaker.

SKIATOOK NEWS.

His characterizations of Shakespeare's characters were indeed wonderful.

DAILY TRAVELER, Arkansas City, Kans.

It was my pleasure to hear Mr. J. Quincy Biggs give his lecture on Shakespeare. The audience consisted mainly of teachers who expressed themselves as highly entertained. Mr. Biggs is one of the best Shakespearean scholars I have known.

C. T. BENNETT, County Judge.

Mr. Biggs makes you laugh, cry and then laugh again. He is an orator of ability.

OSAGE CITY HERALD.

His memory is fine and he shows real talent in the interpretation and presentation of the characters of Shakespeare.

A. R. WILLETT,

Pastor of Baptist Church.

I heard Mr. J. Quincy Biggs before the Teachers' Convention. It is putting it mildly to say he is instructive, entertaining and edifying. He is a genius in his line. He possesses a wonderful memory—keen, alert and definite. After hearing him you will read, hear and appreciate Shakespeare as never before.

PROF. B. E. RICHARDSON,

Supl. of Public Schools.

I very greatly enjoyed his masterly interpretations, character sketches and readings. His lecture evidenced profound study, wide reading and a keen appreciation of the vital messages of this tragedy, Hamlet.

WARD W. MACHENRY,

Pastor of Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Biggs is a talented young man and his interpretations were well received. The city is to be commended for bringing such a high class entertainment to Thomas.

THOMAS, (OKLA.) WEEKLY.

He is a deep student of Shakespeare, and has a clear, definite knowledge of the fundamental principles upon which Shakespeare constructed his great dramas. Mr. Biggs is a graduate of Oratory, and presents the characters of these great plays in a clear and forceful manner, showing his intimate knowledge of them. His power of catching and holding the attention of his audience is splendid. He is an entertainer and instructor to all students and lovers of Shakespeare.

T. W. ANDERSON, A. M.,

Dept. of English, Pawhuska Bus. College.

Mr. J. Quincy Biggs gave an address on Shakespeare to the Osage County Teachers' Association. The large and attentive audience gave him the best of attention for an hour and I consider it one of the most able addresses on Shakespeare that it has been my privilege to hear. Mr. Biggs is a Shakespearean scholar and Pawhuska appreciates him very highly along this line.

PROF. W. E. GILL,

Supl. of County Schools.

To Club Women:—It was my pleasure to listen to J. Quincy Biggs in a recital of Shakespeare, and I was delighted and instructed at the same time. You will make no mistake in securing the services of this artist in your club.

MRS. FRANK HILTON GREER,

Prof. of Oratory, Guthrie, Okla.

I have enjoyed the readings of J. Quincy Biggs from Shakespeare and witnessed his interpretation of his great characters. I consider his work along the lines indicated, the equal of that of the best professional talent.

ELMER E. GRINSTAD,

Attorney-at-Law.

Mr. J. Quincy Biggs gave a Recital of Shakespeare's greatest productions when I was present and I never heard a finer evening's entertainment.

MRS. HARRY E. SOUTHAN,

Pres. of Shakespeare Club, Enid, Okla.

Mr. Biggs is at home with Shakespeare or any of the old classics. He showed his appreciation of the humorous by giving some selections from Ben King.

FAIRLAND NEWS.